Click on the Blocks tab. This is the area where you update your availability. Keeping this information up-to-date is vital to getting games and providing your status back to assignors. When assignors have games to be distributed, only available officials will show up for the day and time of a given game.

- If you have a block in place on a day and time that an assignor has a game to be scheduled, you will not be assigned that game
- If you show as available and the assignors puts you on that game, you need to accept that assignment, as you were showing available

NOTE – In short, keeping this information as real time as possible will only help you with your relationship with your assignors. This is the only way for you to let your assignor know when you are and are not available to work. The assignors don't need to hear about other websites that you use or other calendars that you keep, this is the one that they work off of. If you get a game elsewhere, block it off here. Keep this information up-to-date, it is in your own best interest.

When you come into this screen, you will be in View Schedule mode. By default, it will show today's date.
